DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Claims 14-16 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim.

Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in the reply filed on 10/10/05.

Specification

2. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

The word "means" should be removed from the abstract.

3. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: The related applications section of the specification should include the patent number of the related case.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

4. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

5. Claims 17-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. Claims 17-20 recite “outer retaining means”, “sealing means”, “means mounting”, “wedge means”, “first cooperating means”, “second cooperating means”, “push means”, “interior male-thread engaging means”, “first camming surface means”, “radially compressible spacer means”, “second camming surface means”, “third camming surface means”, “fourth camming-surface means”, “fifth camming surface means” and “sixth camming surface means”, however the specification fails to define a “outer retaining means”, “sealing means”, “means mounting”, “wedge means”, “first cooperating means”, “second cooperating means”, “push means”, “interior male-thread engaging means”, “first camming surface means”, “radially compressible spacer means”, “second camming surface means”, “third camming surface means”, “fourth camming-surface means”, “fifth camming surface means” and “sixth camming surface means”. The different “means” are not adequately defined in the specification.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

7. Claim 17 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Larsson ‘723.

In regard to claim 17, Larsson discloses a coupler having a female-end 5 for connection to a male-end 2 of an element, comprising:

a main body portion 6 having a first end 8 and second end 6; outer retaining means 12 mounted for slidable relative to the main body portion;

sealing means 11 operatively associated with the second end 6 of the main body portion for providing a seal for a male-end 2 of an element;

a flexible female-portion 5 for receiving and locking a male-end therein, the female-portion being operative associated with the sealing means at the second end;

means 9, 10 mounting the flexible, resilient female portion for movement toward and away from the sealing means comprising wedge means (sloped interior surface of 12 contacting 5) operatively associated with the outer retaining means 12 for urging the female-portion toward the sealing means when the outer retaining means is moved in a first direction.

Double Patenting

8. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the “right to exclude” granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

9. Claim 17 is rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-2 and 6-9 of U.S. Patent No. 6,786,516. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because they claim similar subject matter.

Conclusion

10. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. King Lee, Kubota et al., Cronley, Eaton, Eaton '406 and Jensen all disclose similar couplings common in the art.
